NEWS RELEASE

September 20, 2004

$10,000 In Ethanol Fuel Given Away

Bismarck – One hundred and sixteen lucky people across the state won free fuel from the Lottery today.

The North Dakota Lottery and State Energy Office gave $10,000 in ethanol fuel to the winners of the "Free Fuel for a Year" promotion, designed to promote sales of ethanol fuel and the Lottery's Powerball game Power Play option. Over 12,000 entries were received in the seven-week promotion that ended earlier this week. To enter the weekly drawings, players sent in non-winning Powerball/Power Play tickets to the Lottery. Only 812 of the entries made it into the final drawing.

Alvin Fiskum of Minot, and Joyce Ellefson of Towner, won the Grand prizes of $30 a week for a year of ethanol blended fuel; runners ups Jacob Batsch of Jamestown and Joe Busek of Bismarck won $20 ethanol blended fuel a week for 6 months. The complete list of winners is available from the Lottery's website at www.ndlottery.org.
